

Jefferson County Community Foundation

Business Practices – ways JCCF conducts daily affairs

- Creating goodwill and trust by being transparent and open
- Using local resources and businesses
- Showing respect and a sense of caring for all who interact with the Foundation
- Assuring highest quality management of resources

Programs – ways JCCF interacts with the community

- Giving to the community through grant making
- Building community by being a neutral convener and catalyst for solving problems
- Building capacity in the nonprofit sector through professional learning opportunities
- Promoting personal philanthropy

Operations – ways JCCF sets policies to guide daily affairs

- Setting clear policies to guide day-to-day affairs
- Defining a compelling mission and vision for the Foundation
- Cultivating ethical leadership through a commitment to board development and community education