

d) Course of Action Refinement.

Once COAs are determined viable, the OPG further refines them by adding the level of detail required for further analysis and war gaming. An important activity at this point is a detailed 'troops-to-tasks' analysis for each mission-essential task associated with the COA being refined. Subordinates should participate in the refinement of COAs. A refined COA will typically include the following: