

Review of the Commander's Planning Guidance.

The Operations Planning Group (OPG) begins Concept Development by first reviewing the CPG. Particular attention should be paid to the commander's intent, mission essential tasks, factors and deductions, the operational design as well as any guidance with respect to opposing Course of Action (COAs), the development of own COAs, and the acceptance of risk.