

1.1. The Academic Reputation Survey (run annually) that underpins this category was carried out between January and March 2016. It examined the perceived prestige of institutions in teaching. The responses were statistically representative of the global academy's geographical and subject mix.